

Tired, Weak, Nervous

Hood's Sarsaparilla Restores Strength and Bodily Vigor.

The cause of that tired, weak, nervous condition, in which so many people find themselves, is the failure of the blood to properly nourish the nerves and tissues. Feed the nerves upon pure blood and they will be steady and strong. Read this:

Mrs. C. H. Venable, Kellogg, Ill. "It is with pleasure that I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as an excellent nerve tonic and blood purifier. I have taken it more than once and am taking it now. I was tired, my body ached, and I felt very badly all over. I was afraid I would be sick. I thought I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and

It Has Cured Me,

and I find that it is cheaper than the doctor's bills. Hood's Pills are the best I have ever taken, and I use no other. I am glad to have

Hood's Pills are hand made, and perfect in proportion and appearance. 25c per box.

The Great German Coffee Berry.

Coffee at one cent a pound, that is what it costs to grow it, good coffee, too. Some say that it is better than Rio. This we know, while in Europe last summer in search of seed novelties we often drank this in hotels in France, Holland and Germany.

Thirty-five packages of earliest vegetable seeds, $1; not 3 cents per package. Largest growers of farm seeds as oats, grass and clover, corn and potatoes, etc., in the world. Early heavy yielding vegetables our specialty.

If You Will Cut This Out and Send It with 15c postage to the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., you will get free a package of their German Coffee Berry seed and their catalogue. CNU

Two of a Kind.

Several months ago F. W. Perry, of Shortsville, N. Y., bought a box of No-to-bac of his druggist, and began taking it. Recently he wrote the Sterling Remedy Co., of Chicago, that No-to-bac cured him so completely that he even dislikes the smell of tobacco. He further stated that a friend of his was cured of the habit and now dislikes tobacco in any form.

Clever Idea.

"Torpedo scissors," a new form of torpedo net cutter invented by a Danish naval officer, have proved successful. It is said, in recent tests. They are fixed to the head of the torpedo and fall apart on striking the net, cutting it so as to let the torpedo pass through and strike the ship.

Breadful.

A reporter in St. Petersburg recently conveyed in his description of the dress worn by the Carina that it was an old-fashioned gown, and now the press censor has forbidden any newspaper from commenting upon anything worn by her majesty.

W. Bourke Cockran, it is said, was once a preceptor in a seminary near White Plains, N. Y., in which village he subsequently practiced law in an inconspicuous way.

"Female Sufferers,"

"Hear me! "I was discouraged, broken-hearted. I was so ill with female trouble I could not walk or stand, and had to be assisted to my feet when arising from a chair.

"My head whirled, and back ached, but worst of all was that crowding-down feeling in my abdomen.

"A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; her faith won mine, and now I am well. Oh! how can I return thanks to Mrs. Pinkham!

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DONALD KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, MASS.,

Has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken.

When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label.

If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squamous feelings at first.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

FATE OF THE FARMER

SOLID FACTS KNOCK OUT FALSEHOODS AND FALLACIES.

Cheap Food and Clothing Offset by the Reduced Prices of Farm Products—Effects of Free Lumber—Why Wheat Sells Low.

Democratic Delusions.

With cotton at five cents and the price dropping, Southern planters are in a state of bewilderment and consternation. Bankruptcy and impoverishment stare them in the face if the present rate, which they assert is below the cost of production, be maintained. In like manner the wheat producer sees ruin confronting him in the continuance of low prices for grain. The Southern planter and the Western farmer, the two agents who were largely instrumental in ordering in 1892 a reversal of the industrial and protective policies of the nation, are now suffering directly from the evils of underconsumption. Manufacturing interests were the first to feel the effects of business uncertainty and the losses of wage-earners. The great agricultural producers South and West are now learning to their cost that the marked decline in the purchasing power of a prosperous nation reacts necessarily upon cotton planters and wheat farmers.

If cheapness of food and clothing were the main factor of national prosperity, Americans would now have full cause for gratitude to Democratic tariff meddlers. But when flour is low, and cotton sells below the cost of production, and every other commodity is cheap because the supply runs far beyond the demand, they need not be thankful. The practical experience of the last two years has taught Americans that, whatever may be the truth about free trade or the protective policy, nothing can take the place of national prosperity under which all classes of the population are employed at good wages and all industries are in full, unimpeded operation. Those are the conditions which develop the purchasing power of every consumer and make the American market the main safeguard against overproduction at home and abroad.

Why Wheat Sells Slow

A Tin Plate Crisis.

A crisis is looming over the Welsh tin plate trade, and the aspect points to a struggle between masters and men on the wage question. The Llanelli manufacturers have issued a notice to their men that a 25 per cent. reduction is required in order to keep the works running without sustaining a loss, consequent upon the competition of America. The workmen of the various works met and resolved to refer the matter to a joint conference of employers and employed, but the decision arrived at was to adjourn the conference in order to give the workmen an opportunity of further considering the proposed reduction.

Great excitement prevails throughout the principality, and in the event of no settlement being effected there will be no alternative but for Welsh manufacturers to close their works, and this will mean a lockout of fully 50,000 hands.

The men consented to a 10 per cent. reduction in wages, but maintain that there is no occasion for a concession to meet the competition of the American trade, as the tin plate works here are practically deserted. A strong resolution to this effect has been passed by the tin plate makers of the Llanelli district, but in other districts the men have granted 25 per cent. reductions, rendering the Llanelli workmen awkwardly situated. The joint conference between masters and men having proved abortive, nothing remains for the men but to accept the masters' alternative, a lockout. The wages hitherto paid tin platers in Llanelli amounted to about £15,000 a month.—Metal World.

Americans Can't Be Beat.

Commenting upon the statement of tin plate production in the United States for the quarter ending June 30, 1894, the London Mining Journal says: Figures like these are certainly astonishing. Clearly the Americans are learning to make tin plate in spite of all attempts to prevent them. Everything goes increasingly to show that the Welsh manufacturers are well advised to paying heed to the counsel which, since Welsh workmen first crossed the Atlantic, and a protectionist Government more than doubled the tariff on tin plates, has been given them to lose no opportunity of seeking new and additional markets.

Free Lumber Effects.

Free trade in lumber works infinite mischief to our interests. For example, Marine City, Mich., is a salt manufacturing town. A stove factory employing 125 men has been one of the industries of the town. Now the free staves coming in from Canada have been laid down in that town at prices below those of the native product, and the 125 men are out of work. In other large stove towns the Canadian staves, cheaper because of the lower Canadian wages, are forcing the American stove mills either to cut down the wages of their employees so that they can meet the Canadian competition or to close their mills entirely, throw the employees out of work and surrender the market to the Canadian producers. In the face of thousands of such cases of direct ruin wrought by the sugar-whisky-trust-tariff monstrosity, there are fanatics and fools, dolts and imbeciles in this country who prate about "the inestimable benefits of tariff reform to the laboring men of the United States."—The Lumber World, December, 1894.

The Offspring of Democracy.

Foreign Lead Imported.

The lead mining trade finds itself in a condition similar to that of some branches of iron and steel production, where it becomes a question of shutting down or lowering the cost of running. The ability of the importer to sell foreign lead at 3 cents in New York makes it exceedingly difficult for the American producer to remain in the market. Comparatively little foreign lead was sold here previous to the passage of the Wilson bill, even though the American lead miner had to meet the product of Mexican mines, where labor was extremely low. With the home supply so nearly equal to the demand any excess in imports must be severely felt by the home producer. New Mexico and Spain are both given increased advantages in the American market. Western prosperity will be greatly retarded by the closing down of American silver lead mines.—American Manufacturer and Iron World, Pittsburg.

It Hurt the Railroad.

The Railroad Gazette gives the following account of the extensions of our railroad system in 1894:

"Railroad building in this country would certainly appear to have reached its lowest ebb, when the total new mileage built in one year amounts to only 1,761 miles. That is all the new railroad that has been built in the United States in 1894. That figure is lower than any that has been reached since 1875, when the net increase for the year was 1,700 miles, the amount built being somewhat greater. The new mileage reported for 1894 is apparently the smallest actual amount of new railroad built in any year since the civil war, and it is much the smaller percentage of increase. Taking Poor's figures of the amount of railroad built at the end of 1893 (177,753 miles), the railroad constructed in 1894 has added less than 1 per cent. to that total."

The Tariff Pendulum.

The tariff was claimed by those in power to have been excessive on foreign trade and productive of too much revenue, but the protracted agony and Caesarian delivery of the tariff reform bill, and the progressive treasury deficiency thus provoked, far transcends the sentimental agony of a surplus, which long ago ceased to vex any financiers. It is always something too much, whether of a surplus or of a deficiency. Two years ago some thought we had too much of McKinleyism. More now think we have got too much of Wilsonism. The tariff pendulum swings to and fro between protection and free trade, tiring out even the President in dreaming dreams, alas! of "iron and coal."—From speech of Senator Justin S. Morrill, of Vermont.

Too Great a Reduction.

Reduced opportunities for employment, reduced wages for the employed. Reduced prices for raw material, reduced earnings for every producer in the country. Reduced exports, reduced balances of trade and reduced store of gold in the national treasury. These are the free gifts of the free-trade Democracy for 1895.

Ab, There!

The people of the United States have seen the end of protective tariff legislation. Congress will never pass another tariff bill increasing the duty on any manufactured product for the purpose of giving protection to the manufacturer.—Chicago Herald, Sept. 25, 1894.

Is that so?

Accept None of the Pretended Substitutes for

Royal Baking Powder

BECAUSE inferior and cheaper made baking preparations are bought at wholesale at a price so much lower than ROYAL, some grocers are urging consumers to use them in place of the ROYAL at the same retail price.

If you desire to try any of the pretended substitutes for ROYAL BAKING POWDER bear in mind that they are all made from cheaper and inferior ingredients, and are not so great in leavening strength nor of equal money value. Pay the price of the ROYAL BAKING POWDER for the ROYAL only.

It is still more important, however, that ROYAL BAKING POWDER is purer and more wholesome, and makes better, finer, and more healthful food than any other baking powder or preparation.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 WALL ST., NEW-YORK.

Embarrassingly Ambiguous.

"There was quite a fight in front of the store to-day," said a Rockland man at the supper table. "Two men got into a row, one struck the other, and then the crowd gathered. The man who was struck ran and grabbed a cart-stake and rushed back, his eyes blazing. I thought sure he'd knock the other man's brains out, and I stepped right in between them." The young heir had given over eating his tart as the narrative proceeded, and his eyes leaned right out of his head. He was proud of his father's valor, and he cried: "He couldn't knock any brains out of you, could he, father?" The old man looked long and curiously at the heir, but the lad's countenance was frank and innocent and open. When it closed with the tart on the inside the father gasped slightly and resumed his supper.—Rockland Tribune.

Small Beginnings.

Make great endings sometimes. Ailments that we are apt to consider trivial often grow, through neglect, into atrocious maladies, dangerous in themselves and productive of others. It is the disregard of the earlier indications of ill health which leads to the establishment of all sorts of maladies on a chronic basis. Moreover, there are certain disorders incident to the season, such as malaria and rheumatism, against which it is always desirable to fortify the system after exposure to the conditions which produce them. Cold, damp and malarial air are surely counteracted by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. After you have incurred risk from these influences, a winglessful or two of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters directly afterwards should be swallowed. For malaria, dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney and bladder trouble, nervousness and debility it is the most deservedly popular of remedies and preventives. A winglessful before meals promotes appetite.

The Wonder of Science.

"I wonder what the matter with this thermometer," said the scientist's wife. "It stands at 95, out of doors." "Oh," replied her husband, "that is an interesting phenomenon. But it's very easily explained." "How?" "The variations in this climate have kept the mercury sliding up and down in the tube until the friction made it hot."—Washington Star.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Ball Before Waterloo.

The Hartford Times prints a letter from Lady Louisa Tighe, dated Woodstock, Ireland, to a gentleman of Windsor Locks, Conn., acknowledging the receipt from him of a newspaper paragraph about the ball at Brussels on the eve of Waterloo, at which she was present. Lady Tighe is a daughter of the Duke of Richmond, who gave the ball, and is in her 92d year. She writes of her parents: "There were six of their sons serving their country in the army and one in the navy. They all reared seven daughters. Two only are now living, Lady Louisa Tighe and her youngest sister, Lady Sophia Cecil. The young girls were all sent to the hospitals at Bruxelles, to carry lint, and the Duchess sent more comforts to the wounded through the Sisters of Charity."
